

Abstract Type : Poster

Abstract Submission No. : PO-1023

Impact of Chronic Kidney Disease on Mortality: A Nationwide Cohort Study

Kyeong Min Kim¹, Hyung Jung Oh², Hyungyun Choi⁴, Hajeong Lee³, Dong-Ryeol Ryu²

¹Department of Internal Medicine-Nephrology, Eulji University School of Medicine, Korea, Republic of

²Department of Internal Medicine-Nephrology, Ewha Womans University Mokdong Hospital, Korea, Republic of

³Department of Internal Medicine-Nephrology, Seoul National University Hospital, Korea, Republic of

⁴Department of Research, The Korean Society of Nephrology, Korea, Republic of

Objectives: Mortality is higher in patients with chronic kidney disease (CKD) than in the general population, but little information is available on CKD-related mortality that is representative of the Korean population. Our objective was to investigate mortality risk in Korean patients with CKD.

Methods:

Results:

Conclusions: