

Abstract Submission No. : 9144

APSN-KSN CME Course 1

Muh Geot Wong

The George Institute for Global Health, Australia

The APSN is a federation of national nephrology societies in the Asia-Pacific and Oceanic region comprising eight sponsoring and 14 affiliated societies. The APSN-led CME courses are geared toward providing continuous nephrology education in the region through partnering with national societies and these CME courses are typically part of the national societies' own annual scientific meetings. The APSN provides partial support for trainees and fellows within the ambit of the APSN to attend and benefit from these CME courses so they can bring back the latest advances in knowledge back to their own countries. The composition of the CME Committee is as follows:

Chair: Xueqing Yu, China

Deputy Chair: Muh-Geot Wong, Australia

Members:

Katherine Barraclough, Australia

Chuanming Hao, China

Shinji Kume, Japan

Adrian Liew, Singapore

Lily Mushahar, Malaysia

Jack Ng, Hong Kong

Hyeong-Cheon Park, Korea

Yusuke Suzuki, Japan

Cheuk-Chun Szeto, Hong Kong

Sydney Tang, Hong Kong

Rob Walker, New Zealand